Seniors Give Money to Organ Fund During Restless Meeting

Between outbursts of restlessness yesterday, the Senior class Council ended their college council meetings by donating money to a fund for an organ in the chapel.

The gavel rapped intermittently as Ken Scannell called them to order and, with thumb-in-cheek, scolded them for their restlessness. Finally, when the vote was taken, it was decided to donate money to the organ fund and to contribute any money that may be left over in the treasury to a scholarship fund.

They also applauded Scannell as he gave his farewell speech. Earlier, they had voted to give him a gavel, bearing the inscription, "Ken Scannell, senior class president, 1953."

Freshmen

Bill Kennedy, freshman class president, reviewed the year's activities and suggested plans for next year's class in the final meeting of the Freshman Class Council yesterday in the Student Union.

The council laid tentative plans for next year's freshman social activities and the Sophomore Hop. For the Hop Kennedy suggested Nov. 13 and 21 for tentative dates.

Stanford Expert Tells Far Eastern Conflicts

"Even if the fighting in the Far East were to stop, we would still have to solve the sub-surface problems which are the real heart of Far Eastern conflicts."

With those words, Dr. Claude A. Buss, professor of history at Stanford, summed up his ideas on conflicts of policy in the Eastern world as he spoke before the student body in the Morris Dailey auditorium yesterday. Buss's address was the last in this quarter's College Lecture committee series.

"Sometime soon we will have to face the problem of living in the same world with the Red Chinese," Buss believes, "and military power and even victories will not solve our, and the world's, problems."

Taking the student audience on a verbal tour of Far Eastern nations, Dr. Buss, an expert on oriental affairs, outlined some of the specific economic, political, and social problems confronting Far Eastern peoples.

In Red China, according to Dr. Buss, the Communist regime is stronger than ever before, regardless of the many purges

Variety Is Spice

The senior class must be getting tired of wieners. In a report from John Tillotson yesterday on the council dinner at L'Omelette's tomorrow night, someone asked, "What are we going to have on the menu?"

Wieners and spanish rice," Tillotson replied, "again!"

Rites Planned For SJ Prof

The body of Carleton J. Smyth, assistant professor of journalism, was taken to the east coast last night by his sister, Mrs. Carita Pope of Port Washington, Long Island, N.Y., Dr. Dwight Bentel, chairman of the Journalism department, disclosed.

Mrs. Pope left on the "City of San Francisco." Funeral services will be held in the Church of St. Mary's in Poughkeepsie, N.Y., she revealed. Burial will follow in St. Peter's cemetery in Poughkeepsie.

there and their effects on the people. "When Nationalist forces in Formosa hear of the Red strength in their homeland, their morale is understandably weakened." "The progress we and our allies are making in Formosa is matched step by step with Red progress on the mainland. . . . It is the effect of the two conflicting forces on the minds of the Chinese people that constitutes our great danger in China," Buss opined.

The small nation of Laos, with its 50 per cent infant mortality rate and pinkeye rate of 4 to 5, typifies the conflicts of policy in all South East Asia, Buss said. The national budget is pitifully low, the people are dissatisfied with French handling of their affairs, and are willing to listen to anyone offering them economic help.

"Communists in such countries do not push their political ideologies but concentrate on the desire of the people to better themselves. Entrenchment of Communist ideas comes after such help," Buss declared.

Concert Tonight Climaxes Successful Music Season

The Music department will close a successful quarter of musical productions tonight when the band concert is given at 8:15 o'clock in Morris Dailey auditorium, according to Mrs. Mary Boyer, department secretary.

Robert P. Olson, assistant professor of music, will conduct the evening's program.

Two of Richard Wagner's compositions, "Overture to Rienzi" and "Siegfried Idyll," will open the program.

Byron Maynard will perform a cornet solo of Francis Thome's "Fantaisie" which will be followed by two pieces from "Gems for Wind Instruments" as transcribed by Percy Aldridge Grainger.

Dan Livesay is scheduled for the solo part of a concerto for trombone and band.

The first performance of Harold M. Johnson's "A Short Romantic Overture" will be introduced to the public as one of the concluding selections on the program.

The final piece, "Golden Gate March" by Edwin Franko Goldman will be rendered by the band.

Length of the program has been estimated at one hour and 15 minutes, according to Mrs. Boyer.

The public is invited to attend the concert. No admission will be charged.

Debaters Discuss Communism in US

Four students will discuss the United States methods of combating communism in the quarterly speech forum tomorrow at 3:30 p.m. in the Morris Dailey auditorium.

Robert Sommerville will be chairman of the discussion between Jim Mock, Patricia Branch, Jay, Fox and Ben Stone.

Pictures Taken

Pictures of the new members of the Black Masque and the Spartan Spears will be taken today at 1:30 p.m. at B95, according to Cliff Harrington, Spartan Daily photo editor.

Tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. pictures will be taken of the new Blue Key members, the Student Court, and the executive committees of the Rally and Social Affairs committees.

Theta Chi Wins IFC Awards

Theta Chi made a clean sweep of the trophies given last night at the Interfraternity Award banquet, winning eight of the eleven trophies, including the Warren Bishop memorial trophy for the outstanding fraternity donated by Kappa Alpha.

Delta Upsilon was awarded the football and track trophies while the scholarship went to Kappa Alpha. Theta Chi won the homecoming, wrestling, basketball, bowling, volleyball, spring sing, softball and outstanding fraternity trophies.

Guest speaker for the occasion was Rev. James H. Strayer of the Calvary Methodist church. In his speech he stressed the fact that fraternities were just as much a part of the college life as attending class and reading books.

Police School Grad Injured In Gun Fight

Officer Harold C. Chapman, 27, San Jose police department radio patrolman and March SJS police graduate, was in serious condition today with three bullet wounds, following a gun battle Sunday in which Carl E. Clayton, 37, ex-convict from San Quentin, was killed, according to United Press.

The gun duel took place when a bystander notified police that Clayton was attempting to hold up a supermarket clerk who was opening his store.

Chapman, the first officer on the scene, found Clayton hiding between two buildings and ordered him to come out. Clayton opened fire, hitting Chapman in the leg, arm and shoulder, said the United Press dispatch.

Officer Chapman returned the ex-convict's fire, as did two other officers who joined him. Clayton was killed by a bullet fired through the heart.

Willard E. Schmidt, head of the college police department, stated that Chapman has been a "fine student while attending SJS."

Lyke Will Hit Stands Here Wednesday

The spring issue of Lyke, campus feature magazine, will hit the sales stands at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow morning with features, photos, interviews, gags and GALS galore.

Lyke will be available for the small pittance of 25 cents at stands in the Library Arch, at San Antonio and Seventh streets, San Carlos and Fifth streets, the back entrance to the Women's gym and behind the Business department. An especially fine issue, it was put out by Editor Marie Le Baudour and an able staff of 37.

The cover by Mits Mihara depicts the overjoyed senior being embraced by his wife at the end of his four hard years of work, and all he has to show for it is a sheepskin and five kids.

Dick Zimmerman, as usual, has done an excellent job with the fashion photography and his pictorial feature, "Lyke lives it up," showing state students at play.

The magazine contains many of the usual features, pilfered pieces: an instructor interview, this issue the interviews of Dr. Arturo Fallico, professor of philosophy; a sports feature on judo; and a much-improved array of pokes and exchanges.

Some of the new features include an interview of Warren Tufts, the creator of the comic strip Casey Ruggies, and an informative article designed to completely confuse the slightly confused reader of the Thrust and Parry column in the Spartan Daily.

Applications Due

Written applications for representative-at-large to the Awards committee should be submitted to the Student Council before its Wednesday meeting.

Applications should be turned in to the Associated Student Body office in the Student Union.

Seniors Okay Suits for Ball

Dark suits will be acceptable for the Senior Ball, although the class would prefer white dinner jackets and tuxedos, according to Rita Ragazzino, Senior Ball chairman.

Dancers using the Bay Meadows Turf club bar facilities must show identification, Miss Ragazzino explained.

Graduating seniors may pick up bids in the Graduate Manager's office. Admission price for members of other classes is $3. Alumni bids will be available at the door.

Frankie Carle and his orchestra will play for the annual formal.

Coronation Events Told by Counselor

"The loyalty and devotion of the English people to their government was one of the many things that impressed me at the 1937 coronation," stated Mrs. Lillian Scott, counselor for pre-professional courses at San Jose State.

Mrs. Scott attended the coronation of King George VI May 12, 1937. This morning, a new queen was to be crowned with the St. Edward's crown.

The counselor in Dean Harclerod's office commented that it rained on the last Coronation Day but that this did not stop the British people from turning out to watch the coronation and procession.

Queen Elizabeth II was to be crowned at 7:34 EDT this morning, according to the split-second timetable worked out for the coronation. The coronation itself was to have lasted two hours and forty-five minutes and the guests who were to view the ceremony in the Westminster Abbey had to be in their seats at least two and one-half hours before the queen arrived.

The only time that had been left approximate was the arrival of the queen at Buckingham Palace after her state procession through the streets.

Bibliophiles To Become Ninth Chapter of National Society

When members of the Bibliophiles, local librarianship society, are initiated into Alpha Beta Alpha this Saturday, the honor group will become the ninth chapter of the national fraternity.

The new Iota chapter will include about 100 members, according to Miss Dora Smith, head of the Librarianship department. Graduates of the Librarianship school and both majors and minors in the field are eligible for membership.

Ceremonies will take place at Mary-Ann gardens in San Jose and will be followed by a tea. Miss Margaret Girdner, chief of the San Francisco Bureau of Texts and Libraries, will be the installing officer.

SJ Graduates Make Name in Decoto School

San Jose State college graduates in education are making a name for themselves, according to a recent communication from the Decoto school district.

Salvador R. Infelise, '50, recently was promoted from a fifth grade teacher to principal of the Decoto elementary school, the dispatch reported.

Another promotion in the district concerns Alfred Pinard, '49, who was sophomore class president in 1947-48 and a junior justice of the student court. Pinard was recently promoted to the position of director of recreation and child welfare for the district and is the vice-principal of the Henry Barnard intermediate school.

Other former students promoted during the year are John Dewey, '51, and Michael Fahey, '52, who were promoted from lower grades to the positions of recreation leaders. Dewey is at the Henry Barnard school and Fahey is at the Hillview Crest school.

Also working in the Decoto school district are Gladys Gause, Delores Alameda, Eleanor Holzworth, Jacqueline Appel, Margorie Wegner and Margaret Ely.

Wisconsin College President Named Head of Harvard

Cambridge, Mass. (UP) — Dr. Nathan Marsh Pusey, president of Lawrence college at Appleton, Wis., was named president of Harvard university yesterday.

He succeeds James Bryant Conant, who resigned to become U.S. high commissioner to Western Germany.

Pusey, a Harvard graduate, was elected to the high educational post by the Harvard corporation, which reported its choice to the Harvard Board of Overseers.

The overseers will vote on Dr. Pusey's election at a special meeting the day before commencement. They were expected to confirm the corporation's choice.

is the only undergraduate library science fraternity in the United States. It is also the largest library science fraternity in the nation with respect to the number of chapters.

The fraternity's history dates back to 1945, when a group of 22 library science students and eight librarians at Northwestern State college, La., organized a library science club. The group, learning that there was no active national fraternity for librarians, established the Alpha Beta Alpha on May 3, 1950.

La Torre Date

The distribution date for the 1953 La Torre has been tentatively set for Thursday, June 4, according to Jim Cottrell, publicity manager.

The yearbook will be distributed under the Inner Quad arches to those who have paid-up deposit slips.

National Red Cross Plans Interviews

The Placement office yesterday announced that the American National Red Cross will conduct employment interviews today for graduating seniors interested in work in cooperation with the armed forces.

Dr. Vernon Ouellette, placement officer, also said that a representative of the Westmorland Sterling Silver company will be in the Placement office tomorrow to interview job applicants. The firm is in need of both full and part time workers during the summer months to sell sterling silver by appointment.

Ad Race Results

The Spartan Ad staff contest for getting advertisements shows that the Badgers are in first place with 961 points to the Beavers' 721.

John Burns is currently the leading scorer with 27 markers.

Coronation Events

Rulers from the various British territories and colonies form a beautiful sight in the procession with their colorful robes and array of jewels, according to Mrs. Scott. She went on to say that the entire affair is quite a pageant and very ornate.

Mrs. Scott pointed out that the crown worn by the newly coronated sovereign during the procession is not the regular St. Edward's crown but a crown of jewels. The reason for this, she continued, is that the regular crown is much too heavy to be worn during the entire procession.

The Archbishop of Canterbury presides over the coronation. When he crowns the new sovereign, the people shout, "God save the king or queen."

Teaching Jobs Now Available

Representatives of two California high schools will be in the Teacher Placement office today to interview graduating teacher candidates, Miss Doris K. Robinson, director of teacher placement, announced yesterday.

Shandon High school in San Luis Obispo county will be seeking students to fill three vacancies. Positions entail the teaching of a combination of subjects at a beginning salary of $3800.

Six openings in various fields exist in the Liberty Union High school at Brentwood, Miss Robinson said.

Particulars concerning both of these jobs are available at the Placement office, Room 100.

Official Talks Of Tax Bureau

Remo N. Cippola, manager of the San Jose office of the Internal Revenue bureau, will tell the Business Lectures class about the bureau's functions today at 12:30 p.m., according to Dr. Earl W. Atkinson, chairman of the Division of Business.

Thursday the class will hear John D. Crumney, chairman of the board of directors at Food Machinery company, discuss the "Character in Business."

English Movie At Towne Theater Described As 'Best'

By JOE BRYAN

Another English production, currently playing at the Towne theater, demonstrates how admirably the motion picture is a proper vehicle for the classical drama.

The play in question is Oscar Wilde's "The Importance of Being Earnest." The blurb in the marquee describes it as "a comedy of manners, morals, and matrimony." Anyone familiar with the play realizes the accuracy of this description.

One of the most impressive things about the movie version of the play is the high level of the acting. It would be a shame to single out any performer as outstanding.

Timing of the dialogue is superb. Transitional scenes are handled with expert ease. The emphasis is on the acting, rather than photography or music.

We recommend "The Importance of Being Earnest" as one of the best shows we've seen in a long time.

History, Fiction Mixed In SJS Teacher's Book

By KEITH KALDENBACH

Take a bit of historical fact, add a pound of "labor of love," then mix in a few fictional characters and you have an excellent three book series of supplementary and library reading for grade and high school students such as that written by Dr. Elmer H. Staffelbach, professor of education at the college.

Dr. Staffelbach's work, which is entitled "the Long Rifle Series," consists of three novels which novels. Dr. Staffelbach spent many hours in the U.S. War department and libraries and museums in both Texas and California going over documents and letters for information concerning the growth of the west.

In brief, the series is a geographically and historically accurate fictional narrative with the adventures of a few fictional characters interlarded with those of historical figures.

An increasing number of school and public libraries throughout the country have purchased the series which promised to do a great deal towards giving the youth of America an enjoyable method of learning the historical background of the west.

DR. ELMER H. STAFFELBACH

were recently published by the Harr Wagner Publishing company of San Francisco. Two of the books, "Towards Oregon" and "For Texas and Freedom," were originally published by the Macrae-Smith company of Philadelphia in 1946 and 1948. The third book, "Long Rifle Vanguard," is an original publication of the Wagner company.

Fascination for the history of the development of the west accounts for the "labor of love" bit of Dr. Staffelbach's recipe.

In reviewing his first book, "Towards Oregon," the Chicago Tribune aptly summed up Dr. Staffelbach's beliefs when it said, "One of the most fascinating, fine historical stories of the Pacific Northwest and will leave any young American with a pride of his heritage."

This same book, when first published, was awarded the Commonwealth of California medal for the best juvenile book by a California author in 1946. The medal is a presentation of the Commonwealth Club of California.

The affable professor recalls with a smile the highlight of the dinner at which he was awarded the medal. Seated at the table with Dr. Staffelbach was the ex-Governor of California, C. C. Young, who leaned over and told him that "Towards Oregon" was the finest book he had ever read.

The importance of the series lies in the fact that years of painstaking research have gone into the

SPORTS SPOTLIGHT

By GEORGE NALE

Gauging the merits of a college sport is hard. Natural biases tend to make a person lean towards his favorite sport. He always feels that his sport is underrated, even in the case of the football fan when he hears baseball called the national sport.

One of the best methods for rating sports in their order of importance, I have found, is by using attendance figures of a single contest.

Football ranks first in collegiate attendance per game. It is the No. 1 sport of the colleges. Basketball ranks second. It is second in attendance per game. Track pulls crowds almost as big as basketball, and the really big meets football-size crowds are in attendance. Starting with baseball and going down in descending order, the figures tend to lie a little, dependent upon the location of the college and the natural interest in various sports.

Fresno State, for example, draws huge crowds at baseball games in Fresno compared to what the Spartans draw here in Municipal stadium. Southern California has many rabid track fans and draws large crowds at its meets.

WHICH ALL LEADS UP TO THE FACT THAT SKIING DRAWS COMPETITORS AND OTHER SKIERS TO MEETS AND THAT IS ALL.

Skiing doesn't exist as far as being a spectator sport is concerned. Since student money is used to sponsor a ski club I feel it should have some spectator interest, which is doesn't because of natural conditions. Students like to see their teams in action and in practice. With skiing they can do neither.

A ski club is a good thing. Many students are interested in the sport and it is fast becoming popular. It is a week-end sport. Students from this college could not practice during the week as they do for other sports. They would have to purchase equipment probably running more than $100, this at their own expense. Many students can't afford it.

Our skiers seem to find skiing a pleasure sport, so much so that more than 400 San Jose State skiers have been skiing on Donner Summit at one time, according to Ski club ex-president John Bishop.

Most track men, judoists, football players, etc., don't find as much pleasure as that in their sports. They involve strenuous practice, and abstinence from some foods and habits, particularly smoking.

It is too bad that a struggle should develop between skiing and judo for placement under the PE department. Both are good sports, but they are far apart in spectator interest and worth to the school as a whole.

Skiing does not have, and could not have, the appeal to future competitors now in high school and grammar school that a sport close to the college will have. Students who wish to go to a college where skiing is a big thing can pick any number of colleges where the snow is practically on the campus and the expense involved in skiing is not prohibitive. It is prohibitive here.

Spectators at judo matches may have noticed the large number of small boys already competing in the sport. It is indicative of judo's growing popularity. Judo could draw them to San Jose State.

Individual Honors Won By Hunt in Tournament

By BOB KIRCHER

Lyle Hunt lived up to his third degree black belt rating by winning the individual championship of the Los Angeles Invitational Pacific Coast judo tournament Saturday at Los Angeles.

The meet, which pitted the Spartans against the best judoists of Southern California, was won by the host team 9-6.

According to Spartan Coach Yosh Uchida, Hunt showed excellent form in his victory. The State heavyweight threw five opponent black beltlers to cinch the individual championship.

Other members of the San Jose squad who showed well in the meet were Mike Kubas, Chris Bell and John Sepulveda. Uchida stated, "San Jose State was complimented on their sportsmanship which is a prime factor in the sport of judo."

The host team had participants from North Hollywood, San Diego, San Gabriel, Gardena, Los Angeles and many other southern towns. Only the outstanding judoists representing the dojo clubs of their communities participated for the home team.

A large crowd turned out to watch the invitational meet which was held in the Maryknoll gymnasium. Uchida estimated the audience, which was standing room only, to number 450.

The Spartan coach commented, "Our squad was just too inexperienced to cope with the all-stars from Southern California. The boys, however, did put up an excellent showing in the meet."

49'ers Sign Morris

San Francisco (UP) — All-American linebacker George Morris of Georgia Tech has been signed to play for the San Francisco Forty-Niners of the National Professional Football league.

The 210-pounder, the Forty-Niner's number two draft choice, was co-captain at Georgia Tech in the 1952 season.

State Men Are Placed As Coaches

The Athletic department has announced that several positions have been filled by physical educational majors and former P.E. majors of the college.

Jim Wheelahan, who played football for Sparta during the 1948, '49 and '50 seasons, has been named head football coach at San Jose high school. He replaces Ken Blue, also a State graduate.

Centerville high school will be the new home of Bob Osborne.

He will be an assistant football coach for the coming season.

Archie Chanogian has been named head football mentor at Livermore high and Earl Johnson will be em-

Bob Amaral played by the athletic department of Lincoln high school in San Jose.

Dick Bondelle will call Willow Glen high his office as he has accepted a coaching position there. Former basketball player Dean Giles has been named to the basketball coaching staff at Santa Clara high school and Wayne Fontes will join the football coaching ranks at Hamilton high school in Campbell.

Former football player Elgin Martin will take over the track and field chores at San Jose high school while George Anderson will combine graduate studies and a trainer job at USC. Bob Titchenal will be head football coach at the University of New Mexico.

Bob Bronzan, head Spartan football mentor, has announced that Bob Amaral, Russ Phillips and Tom Cuffe will handle frosh football reins for San Jose State next season. All three are past performers for Bronzan.

Cage Tilts Added

Two basketball games have been added to the San Jose State varsity schedule, announced Head Coach Walt McPherson, yesterday.

Friday, Dec. 18, the Spartans play the University of Arizona at Tucson. Saturday, Dec. 19, they face Arizona State at Tempe.

Rugby Football Film Tonight

A film titled "Rugby-Football" will be shown in the Women's gymnasium tonight at 7 o'clock, announced Bob Gibson, co-promoter of a rugby team next spring at the college.

Gibson, and Garth Eaton, both from Canada, played for the Athens rugby team of Oakland. All interested men, particularly football players, are invited to attend the film showing and to talk with the former rugby players.

Mike Ryan's Fame Is World-Wide

By DON BLOOM

Mike Ryan, 65-year-old coach of the Santa Clara County Youth Center, has been in track work all of his life. He has been a member, as well as a coach, of the American Olympic marathon track squad and at one time held the United States marathon record.

Mike, who is considered one of the all-time great American marathon runners, started his athletic career in high school. Although there were no regular track meets, he and Johnny Hayes trained together. Ryan consistently beat his neighbor, but after the two made the U.S. Olympic team in 1908, Hayes won the title in the blistering heat that caused Ryan to collapse.

He set a Canadian marathon record in 1910 and represented the country in the European Championships in England, where he took second. Mike is the lone American ever to represent another nation in this event.

In 1912, Mike won the American Olympic tryouts, but again the heat got him abroad and he could not finish. His time for the 26-mile, 385-yard grind was 2 hours, 21 minutes and 18.2 seconds. At this time it was recognized as the U.S. mark.

After making the honor team twice, Mike coached the squad from 1920 to 1932. He then coached the sport at Bates college, Idaho university, Wyoming university and Colby (he coached here while a student).

While at Idaho, Ryan's distance runners captured six Pacific Coast conference cross-country titles.

Accepting a job in Central America, Mike coached the Guatemalan National Olympic track team from 1948 to 1951. His teams participated in the Central American Games.

After leading such an interesting life, popular Mike has now ventured into the sporting goods business in San Jose.

Some of Ryan's outstanding pupils have been Phil Leibowitz, Pacific Coast mile record-holder at 4:09.2; Vic Gyrgall, PCC two-mile champ; Don Johnson, PCC javelin titlist; George Mittelstorf, IC4A sprint champ, indoor and outdoor, and Ken Wenworth, IC4A hammer throw record-holder.

Mike is truly a marathon and distance coaching immortal.

State To Require New Course in Public Safety

A new state law will require all juniors and seniors enrolled at State next year to take a one-quarter course entitled "Public Safety."

The course has been set up by James M. Craig, instructor of biology. He will be assisted in instructing the sections by Forrest E. Peifer, assistant professor of industrial arts; and Angelo C. Centanni and Robert P. Johnson, instructors in industrial arts.

The class is designed to instruct students attending any State college or university in the dangers of alcohol and narcotics and in the need for fire prevention and safety.

These subjects previously were covered by a series of lectures known as senior orientation.

The new course, beginning in September, will consist of five lecture sections and one general assembly each week. Each student will be required to enroll for one lecture section and to attend the general assembly, which will be held every Tuesday at 3:30 p.m.

The lecture sections will be at 9:30 o'clock Mondays and Tuesdays, 12:30 p.m. Wednesdays, and Fridays, and 2:30 p.m. on Thursdays. The course will carry one unit of credit, and grades will be based on work done rather than on attendance alone.

Special lecturers will appear at the assembly meetings, and demonstrations of various kinds will be scheduled for these meetings.

Following the 1953-54 school year, the course will be required of all juniors and all students transferring from junior colleges, even though they may have completed a similar course there.

State Chimes Will Duplicate Royal Carillon

Chimes being played at Westminster Abbey today, in honor of the coronation of Queen Elizabeth, will be duplicated at 12:30 o'clock this afternoon by the SJS carillon.

The program will be tape recorded by Dr. Richard B. Lewis, of the audio visual department for broadcast over station KEEN at 10:05 p.m. tonight.

Carillonneur for the special program will be Thomas Rhoades, graduating senior music major who also is choir-master at All Saints Episcopal church in Palo Alto.

The "changes," or many combinations of tones played on the carillon heard at the Abbey, are ancient, dating back several hundred years. They are not published but learned by a student from his teacher.

Rhoades learned the sequences from his teacher, who was taught by Sir Edward Bairstow, organist of York Minster in England.

"Changes" are used only on royal occasions. Today two such changes will be heard, along with "God Save the Queen" and English folk songs.

Church Holds Mixed Service

Newton Grove, N.C. (UP) Catholic officials yesterday expressed confidence that a new unsegregated church here will "work" although angry white parishioners virtually boycotted the first services.

About a score of the white members forced their way into the rectory of the Church of Holy Redeemer to protest Sunday after Negroes attended masses for the first time in history.

Despite the angry words, shouting and one woman's scream at the rectory entrance the group became quiet after talks with the most Rev. Vincent S. Waters, bishop of Raleigh.

There was no other disorder and no one was hurt.

Father George Lynch of Raleigh indicated the incident had not discouraged the bishop from consolidating the white and Negro parishes of this small North

New Officers Installed in SU Tonight

Recently-elected officers of Kappa Delta Pi, national education honorary society, will be installed tonight at an installation-dinner party in the Student Union at 7:30 o'clock.

Taking over official duties will be Carolyn Burns, president; Russ Whitmore, first vice president; Betty Higdon, second vice president; Lois Berry, secretary; Madeline Peirona, historian; and Jean Ann Bailey and Bea Bond as publicity chairmen.

Lois Berry and Bea Bond are co-chairmen of tonight's affair.

Volunteers for Exam Wanted

Senior and graduate student volunteers are needed to take the new Graduate Aptitude test today or tomorrow. Dr. Harrison F. Heath, test officer, announced yesterday. The examination will be held in Room 107 at 3:30 p.m. and volunteers are requested to bring an IBM pencil. Test results are unofficial and will be disclosed to the students, if so desired, Dr. Heath said.

Ex-Swim Star Visits Campus

Richard K. Lebedeff, former captain of the Spartan swimming team, visited the campus Friday while enjoying a 15-day leave from the Army Security Agency.

He enlisted in the Army in August of last year. He underwent basic training at Fort Riley, Kan. before being assigned to Communications school at Fort Devens, Mass.

Lebedeff will report to Camp Stoneman on June 15 to leave for Japan for his tour of overseas duty.

The former Spartan is a graduate of Hayward Union High school, and entered San Jose State in 1948. He was on both the swimming team and water-polo teams.

Alpha Chi Epsilon Elects Officers

Members of Alpha Chi Epsilon, kindergarten-primary organization, held election of officers at their last meeting of the quarter last week.

Taking over official duties will be Nina Teasley, president; Elaine Phillips, vice president; Rosemarie Eskew, secretary; and Virginia Breedlove, treasurer.

Carolina tobacco center. "We think it is going to work out," he said. "We're going to let the situation take care of itself."

Present Given Class Adviser

A pipe lighter, inscribed with his name and the date, was presented Milton C. Lanyon, associate professor of art and former adviser to the Sophomore class, by the Class Council last week.

The gift was an expression of appreciation of the time, effort, and friendship Mr. Lanyon extended to the class during his approximately 11 years as adviser, according to Bob Goforth, outgoing president.

Mr. Lanyon resigned as soph adviser because of the pressure of other obligations. He is acting as the temporary chairman of the Art department in the absence of Dr. Marques E. Reitzel, who is on leave.

Dr. Eleanor M. Coombe, assistant professor of physical education, replaced Lanyon as class adviser.

College Engineer Department Moves Into New Building

The college Engineering department moved into the new engineering building between San Fernando and San Antonio streets yesterday to climax eight years of planning, according to Dr. Ralph J. Smith, department head.

Dr. Smith said that laboratory and classroom operations will not begin immediately; only the technical operations for building laboratory equipment will commence this week.

Dr. Smith disclosed that classes will not begin in the new structure until the latter part of the summer session.

Functional plans for the edifice were begun by Dr. Smith in January 1945. The new building contains eleven laboratories and three classrooms.

Students Like State Colleges

Humboldt State College—

Recent studies of student transfers from State colleges to the University of California and vice versa have indicated that the balance of favor is with the State colleges.

In several areas of consideration students replied that State colleges offered better opportunities in such matters as social guidance, facilities, and in faculty interest regarding student learning accomplishments.

In April last year the first study was made concerning transfers to the university from State colleges. In the fall of 1952 the problem asked of students who transferred from the university to the State colleges.
